Credit scenarios in the post-pandemic era

This is the theme addressed at CREDIT 2021 round table scheduled online on May 11th, 2021 at 4pm CET.

The 2020 pandemic has deeply affected the world economic system, suspending production, evaluation methods and scenario forecasting.

Global governments' intervention has been able to cushion the impact of lockdowns and the global slowdown, but what awaits us when we get back to "normal"?

Credit, active or passive, is the engine that powers the economic, banking and insurance sectors. Will we need a new approach to credit or will we have to live with the old methodologies and absorb the pandemic as if it were an unforeseen event?

What impact will ESG criterias have in leading companies into a new era?

These are the questions that representatives of the banking, insurance and business world will address.

At the roundtable:

Daniel Rath Head Corporates Raiffeisen Bank International, Vienna

Laurent Steiner Head Credit & Supply Chain ArcelorMittal, Luxembourg

Laurent Gourevich Head Financial Institutions Coface, Paris

Vinco David Secretary General Berne Union, London (+ 80 insurance companies worldwide)

Peter Mulroy Secretary General FCI, Amsterdam (+ 400 banks worldwide)

Peter Bacon Operating Partner Atlas Holdings, New York

Alfredo Spadaro President Swissdacs Group, Zurich

The event is promoted by Credit Observatory, a virtual space by Swissdacs Group to create a place open to debate and the contribution of all those who are involved in various capacities in the theme of Risk: entrepreneurs, experts from the banking and insurance world, academics, representatives of the political world and civil society.
